

The Vermont Association for Applied Behavior Analysis (VtABA) is excited to sponsor a professional event for the community in conjunction with the Counseling Service of Addison County (CSAC).

AIM Training Workshop

January 3 & 4, 9-3:30

Middlebury, VT

AIM: A Behavior Analytic Curriculum for Social Emotional Development in Children is a new approach to intervention that synthesizes Mindfulness, Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT), and Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) to develop prosocial behavior among children and adolescents. In this introductory workshop, attendees will learn the basics of the three intervention components and gain hands on experience with AIM's ACT and Mindfulness lessons as well as completing AIM forms, data sheets, and assessments. Learn how AIM can be implemented to meet the social-emotional and behavioral needs of your students or clients.

Cost: $160 for the 2 day workshop

12 BACB© Type II CEUs provided at no additional charge

Location: Conference Room at 109 Catamount Park, Middlebury, VT

Coffee and light refreshments provided

About the Trainer

Dr. Rachel Enoch, BCBA-D, is a leader in training teachers and staff on the implementation of Acceptance and Commitment Training (ACT) across school-wide initiatives. Previously she created and implemented community mindfulness camps for children and worked as the primary Board Certified Behavior Analyst at a residential eating disorder facility for adolescent females. Rachel is excited to find new and innovative ways to infuse behavior analysis in the classroom as well as in alternative education and community settings.

Rachel is passionate in her support of ABA students in their journey to becoming behavior analysts and infuses a social justice focus into her teaching and training. In September 2018, Rachel was elected to serve as President of NHABA, an affiliate chapter of the Association of Behavior Analysis International (ABAI). She hopes to promote continued support and awareness to the field and bring research practices and professional development opportunities to behavior analysis throughout New Hampshire.
